No Equality; Not even in Death

When a crazed gunman attacked a Jewish Synagogue in Pittsburgh, USA, killing 11 people it drew criticism worldwide. The attack was the lead story on news media in Britain and Europe. Condolences from Donald Trump, Theresa May and several leaders of EU countries were posted within hours. But what was their reaction when Israeli soldiers at the Gaza border killed 62 Palestinians staging a peaceful protest, including an 8 month-old baby?

Silence!

In the US the attacker was captured and now faces the death penalty. In Israeli occupied Gaza, life (or death) goes on as usual.

Beware Spooks

Our government's decision to pass the responsibility for monitoring British nationalists, broadly termed the "far-right" from police Special Branch (SO15) to the spooks of MI5 is somewhat sinister. MI5's normal remit is to monitor and thwart serious threats to national security such as the IRA and the Manchester bombers. No evidence has been produced to suggest that Britain's miniscule "far-right" has the will or the capabilities to threaten Britain's security.

It is not through random acts of violence and terrorism that we will win back control of our country, only through a disciplined campaign of winning the hearts and minds of fellow Britons to our cause.

We oppose all acts of illegal violence.

Violence presents our cause in a bad light, and gives the authorities excuses to demonize our movement and persecute and harass our activists and leaders.

Don't fall into this trap.

A Challenging Year Ahead

In a year that saw our population increase by 250,000 through legal immigration alone, our country faces another 2 to 3 years of "Freedom of Movement" from the EU. Just how many more East European beggars, prostitutes and car wash attendants do we need? But who is there to fight back? Our nationalist groups and parties remain splintered.

UKIP seems prepared to re-invent itself from a populist party to a nationalist one, but needs to learn quickly that the spread of Islam in Britain is not our sole problem. The UKIP organised "Brexit Betrayal" march in London, is a prime example of what can be done, with over 10,000 nationalists and populists marching in unity together. Together and only together can we win our country back.

MERRY YULETIDE!

Net Migration into Britain Hits a New High

More Migrants Arrive From Third World

Despite Tory manifesto promises that they would reduce immigration into Britain to the “tens of thousands”, the latest official figures show that in the 12 months up to the end of June net migration increased to a new record high! Overall, 273,000 more people entered the UK than left, thus increasing pressure on healthcare, housing and schools.

Worryingly for our racial identity, is the fact that the majority of the new migrants are from third-world countries such as India and Pakistan. Whilst 74,000 new migrants arrived from the EU, the rest were predominantly Asian and African, undermining our White heritage and changing the face of Britain, perhaps for ever more.

The majority of migrants entering Britain last year were Black or Asian Britain's new Home Secretary, an ethnic Pakistani, has already revealed plans for a new immigration policy based on skills, and confirmed that White EU citizens will not be given preference.

Almost 4 million EU migrants currently living here, some working, some living off begging and benefits, have been given the absolute right to continue living here after Brexit. In addition, even after we leave the EU, migrants will still be allowed “free movement” into Britain for the “transition period” of up to three years! This has led the British “Office for National Statistics” to update its forecast that by 2029 the population on our tiny Island will increase to 70 million!

The number of failed asylum seekers being deported has dropped by 18% in the past year and the number held in detention centres has dropped by 41%.

A new phenomenon is the use of small rubber dinghies to cross the English Channel from France by would-be asylum seekers. Over 100 have arrived on British beaches in less than a month. All claim to be the victims of political and religious discrimination in Iran, although none have produced any evidence to substantiate their claims.

Instead of being deported back to France, a “safe” country in which they could claim asylum, our new Home Secretary allows them to register a claim in the UK and then releases them into the community for local councils to look after. This “welcome” policy will no doubt encourage even more migrants to enter Britain illegally.

This new route involves travelling at night across the Dover Straits and through some of the busiest shipping lanes in the world. To help alleviate the danger to the migrants, the Home Secretary is to station more Border Force and Coastguard vessels in the Channel to rescue the migrants and ferry them safely to Britain!

Border Force Migrant Ferry

Unfortunately, the prospects for the New Year do not appear to be good. There is no organised “political resistance movement” in Britain and the whole racial/nationalist movement is fragmented. Without a credible nationalist opposition the future for our country is dire!

Members of the National Front have been holding their annual Remembrance march since the 1970s, but this year an additional wreath was laid in memory of the 784 members of the British Armed Forces who lost their lives during the peacekeeping mission to Palestine 1945-1948.

NEWS AROUND BRITAIN

Tories New Immigration Policy ...

“OPEN THE DOORS”

Britain's plans for a new immigration system once we have left the EU were unveiled last week in a White Paper, which will now be considered by “our masters”.

But far from reducing the numbers of migrants coming to live and work in Britain, the new proposals seem to make it easier for both skilled and low-skilled workers to come here.

What will change?

1: On skilled workers, educational qualifications will be reduced from degree level down to “A”-Level or its equivalent, opening the door to millions of jobs. Providing an employer is willing to pay a minimum of £30,000 a year, almost any jobs will be able to be classed as “skilled”.

2: Employers will no longer have to advertise their vacancies first in the UK, instead, they will be able to ignore British workers and advertise directly abroad.

3: Skilled workers visas will last for up to 5 years. Family members will be entitled to join them and gain full access to free healthcare through the NHS. There will be no cap on the number of visas issued!

Businesses, large and small have lobbied the government over their demands to have continued access to large numbers of low-skilled (cheap) labour. It is this group that nominally give the government most concern. At present, low-skilled, low-paid EU workers in Britain are, because of the benefits system actually subsidised by the Treasury by up to £4.7 billion a year. Apprenticeship training of British workers has declined as they are ignored in the jobs market in favour of migrants.

It is proposed that visas for low-skilled workers would be valid for one year. After which the low-skilled worker is supposed to return to their homeland. They are then banned from re-entering Britain for one year. The obvious loopholes in this are “who will police it”? Instead of returning home, tens of thousands will simply “overstay”.

There will be no cap on the numbers of visas issued!

In theory, the new proposals will give Britain a level of control back that it does not currently have. At present the entire population of the EU has the absolute right to come and live and work in Britain. Under the new plans they lose that right and we could impose limits on numbers if big business allows us.

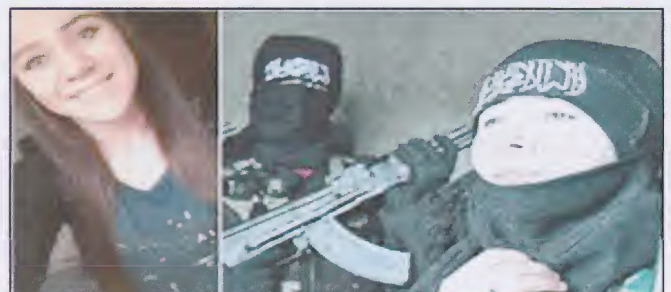

The changing Face of Britain

Under the new proposals, EU and non-EU visa applicants will be treated the same. At present the majority of new workers are White Christians from Europe. In future, most visa applicants will be from Africa and Asia, including a high proportion of Muslims. This will bring demands for the recognition of Sharia Law, Halal food and the building of more Mosques.

The Racial make-up of Britain will change, perhaps forever!

ISIS Wives Return to Britain

In this coming year, dozens of the wives and children of ISIS fighters are expected to return to Britain. According to Home Office sources, most will be “risk assessed” and then allowed to re-enter Britain. Already several British-born Jihadi wives have been issued with new passports allowing them to return to their home communities.

Nation Europa FRANCE

Is France Ready to Explode ?

A recent report suggests that community relations in France are at a dangerously low level and could explode into violence at any time.

It appears that while President Macron ponders his best options to punish Britain for daring to quit the EU, hundreds of thousands of West African economic migrants are setting up ghettos in many French major cities. Most have entered France illegally, crossing the unmanned border with Italy and made their way north to the larger cities. In Paris, it has been estimated that over 300,000 illegal migrants are living in the suburb of Saint-Denis. This increases by about 500 every week. Their numbers have allowed them to run what is in effect a parallel state, a state within a state. Although denying it is a "no-go" area, the French police will only patrol in reinforced vehicles carrying four armed officers at a time. As the majority of the migrants are Muslim, Sharia law applies in this part of France, with Sharia Courts making the rules, not the French government.

"A State within a State"

Followers of other religions are being forced out and several churches have been attacked and closed down. A Jewish synagogue was firebombed and a Kosher restaurant nearby was completely destroyed by fire. Unofficial street markets have been set up with stolen and counterfeit goods being sold openly, and despite Sharia law, Moroccan youths sell hashish and skunk to passers-by, while West Africans deal in "Class A" drugs such as heroin and cocaine. The police keep away!

French security services are doing their best to monitor the activities of the 1,700 Jihadis that have returned to France from Syria, with an estimated 350 battle-hardened fighters living in Saint-Denis. These men are regarded as heroes by many young Muslims and authorities fear they are recruiting the youngsters for future campaigns of terror.

Young men are being recruited and radicalised

After reading the report, a recently-retired French police official commented that, "tensions are rising and the area is like a "powder-keg". The migrants are establishing their own infrastructure and the area will explode into violence if the authorities try to interfere. This is no longer France".

Marine Le Pen tops Latest Poll

The latest poll held to gauge voters intentions in the forthcoming European Parliamentary elections has shown Marine Le Pen's National Rally party (NR) has increased it's support by 4% to 21% while support for the ruling Republic Party of President Macron has dropped to 19%.

More Asian Paedophiles Jailed

And Woman MP Receives Death Threats !

Britain's largest Paedophile grooming gang trial to date, has been concluded with 20 men, all Asian, being convicted of sexual offences against girls as young as eleven. The trial, held at Leeds Crown Court, heard how the Asian paedophiles, mostly from Huddersfield, targeted fifteen young White girls aged between 11 and 15, and gave them drugs and alcohol before raping them and sharing them with others to do the same.

Huddersfield Asian Grooming Gang

The gang-leader, a 35 year-old Sikh, Amere Singh Dhaliwal, was convicted of 54 offences, including raping a 15 year-old girl with a drinks bottle and countless other rapes of children. He was sentenced to a minimum of 18 years in prison. Unfortunately not all of the gang received adequate sentences, with two of the gang being jailed for less than five years.

Gang Leader Dhaliwal demonstrates not all Asian Groomers are Muslim

At the conclusion of the trial the chief prosecutor raised his concerns how the police and local authorities had let the victims down by often ignoring their complaints and appeals for help.

Worried parents who contacted local police and social services were ignored by officials who feared being labelled "racist". The Mother of one young victim even wrote to the Prime Minister for help, and was ignored! Predictably, no one in power has been sacked for their incompetence. Kirklees council and social services unit have commissioned a report "to see if lessons can be learnt"!

Rotherham

Meanwhile, at Sheffield Crown Court, six men of Pakistani heritage were found guilty of raping and sexually abusing five vulnerable young White schoolgirls, one just 13 years old. The gang operated in the Rotherham district, now well known for its unwritten policy of ignoring complains of rape and sexual grooming widely practiced by members of the local Muslim community.

The abuse covered a period of seven years and the trial was told that one young victim had been forced to have sex with over 100 Asian men by the time she was 16. Two 14 year-old girls became pregnant by their rapists and were left with their young lives destroyed. None of the rapists have shown any remorse.

What was consistent with both gangs was they not only sexually abused their young victims but racially abused them too. Throughout the trials many of the victims told how their "racially superior" violators called them "White rubbish" and White trash". They were told "White girls belong in the gutter" but at no stage did the prosecutors demand the offences be treated as "racially aggravated" thus attracting a longer sentence! Nor were any of the rapists recommended for deportation after serving their pathetically low jail sentences. Remember, most will only serve half of their jail sentence before being allowed out on licence. Justice has NOT been done!

To date fourteen Rotherham Muslims have been convicted of sexual offences against children, twenty-four more are waiting trial and sixty-eight interviewed under caution. The police are now investigating 650 grooming allegations by predominantly Muslim gangs.

Rotherham MP Receives Death Threats and Deselection

Since 2014, the Yorkshire town of Rotherham has become synonymous with the mass sexual assault and rape of young White girls by gangs of predominantly Muslim men of Pakistani heritage.

It has been estimated that 1,500 local girls, some as young as 11 years-old, have become victims of sexual violation by mainly Muslim men.

At League Sentinel we have often raised our concerns at the lack of action by British Muslim communities who seem only too willing to “turn a blind eye” to the activities of men in their communities which almost made them accomplices to the crimes being committed. Comments made by some of the rapists that these girls were “White trash” seemed to be endorsed within some Asian groups.

Also disgusting has been the response from local police and council social services departments who feared pursuing complaints by young victims and their families could lead to them being labelled “Racist”!

But one champion of the victims did emerge from the most unlikely of sources, the Rotherham Labour MP, the appropriately named, Sarah Champion.

Sarah Champion

At a time when local Labour politicians were trying to keep the scandal, and the racial heritage of the offenders under wraps, Miss Champion listened to the victims and their horrifying stories. In highlighting the problem to the national media she famously commented, “Britain has a problem with British Pakistani men raping and exploiting White girls. Does this make me racist? For too long we have ignored the race of these abusers and, worse, tried to cover it up”!

In taking this brave stand, Miss Champion attracted a furious response from the local Muslim community and Labour’s hard-left.

She was forced to resign from Labour’s Shadow Cabinet, and Muslims in her constituency are campaigning for her to be deselected as a Labour candidate, and replaced by a local Muslim man. Police have confirmed that they are investigating death threats made against her.

Sarah Champion is now the chairman of a cross-party group of MPs whose constituencies have been plagued by Asian sexual grooming gangs. There are seventy-two towns and cities in Britain where sexual grooming gangs are known to be active!

Home Secretary Orders Investigation into Grooming Gangs Ethnicity

The cross-party committee told the new Home Secretary, Sajid Javid, himself an ethnic Pakistani, they were alarmed by the similarities in cases across the country, and called for research into “common patterns of behaviour”. He replied that an investigation involving the National Crime Agency had been ordered.

White liberals often dismiss the ethnicity of the paedophiles as “irrelevant” and local Muslim Communities often act as “accomplices”. In fact, after the first scandal broke in Rotherham it was reported that a secret meeting was held by local Muslim politicians to discuss whether the laws could be changed so that sex with underage girls was permissible. This would save some of their male relatives from being prosecuted!

What we feel sure of is, the research will not reveal that because of the tolerance of Britain’s native population towards Muslim newcomers, many now feel superior to their hosts. Muslim “Sharia” law is established in most large cities and mosques dominate our skylines. Very little attempts are made to integrate, with Muslim woman observing third world religious dress codes in our major cities.

Halal food is no longer just available by request, it has become the norm. Most large takeaway food chains sell nothing but Halal food. School dinners and meals in hospital are often exclusively Halal.

No wonder many Muslims feel superior!

The Home Secretary’s investigation must establish why many local Muslim communities “hide and protect” the child rapists in their midst, and consider “collective responsibility and collective punishment” on those whose silence helps to facilitate the crimes.

We are watching carefully!

Will Italy Be Next to Quit European Union?

Italy's coalition government has threatened to quit the European Union and return their currency to the Italian Lira if the unelected European Commission vetoes Italy's proposed budget.

The coalition government, made up of the populist "Five-Star" movement and the nationalist "Lega" party have proposed a budget that will honour the promises made to the Italian people during the election campaign, and is regarded by the government as a matter of "honour".

This includes abandoning the austerity programme which has led to an adult unemployment rate of nearly 10% and a youth unemployment rate of 31%. Increased public spending, an earlier retirement age, and lower taxes are all part of plans to rejuvenate the nation's economy.

Although the third largest economy in the Eurozone, Italy is already £424 billion in debt to the European Central Bank and has the second highest level of national debt within the EU, currently standing at 130% of gross domestic product. This has led to the EU Commission threatening Italy with fines and sanctions if it attempts to increase the national debt. But, the EU are fully aware that any serious move to abandon the Euro and revert back to the Italian Lira could have a massive impact on the stability of the Euro and tempt other countries such as Greece to follow suit.

European Nations Reject UN Plans for Dispersal of Migrants

A plan by the United Nations to "share" the numbers of economic migrants who wish to live in the West has been rejected by several European nations.

Estonia has become the latest country to reject UN plans to impose a number of economic migrants on each individual state joining Hungary, Austria, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia Poland and Denmark are expected to join the boycott. The United States was the first to boycott the proposal. In a separate deal, Britain agreed to take 20,000 migrants from Syria over a five-year period.

Obituary

Professor Robert Faurisson

25/1/1929- 21/10/2018

Just after we had posted out issue 116 of League Sentinel did we learn of the death of Professor Robert Faurisson.

Born to a French father and a Scottish mother in Shepperton, England, Robert Faurisson moved to Vichy in France where he became a teacher, and later a professor of French literature at the University of Lyon. As an academic he began to research and challenge several aspects of the authorised version of the Holocaust. He was credited in discovering the "gas chambers" shown to tourists at Auschwitz were in fact "fakes" constructed by the occupying Soviet authorities after the war! His constant challenges to the "Holocaust" brought him into conflict with the authorities and led to many court cases. A regular contributor to the Journal of Historical Review he travelled the world expounding his Holocaust Revisionist discoveries. In 2012, the President of Iran, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, granted him an honour for his work. Professor Faurisson had just returned from addressing a meeting of friends and colleagues in Shepperton when he collapsed and died shortly after arriving at his Vichy home. He will be sadly missed.

Dutch National Rail Company to Compensate Holocaust Survivors

The Dutch state-run rail company, NS has agreed to set up a fund to compensate Holocaust survivors and their relatives for transporting Jews to Concentration Camps during WW2.

In an unusual move, the wartime German occupying authorities actually paid the rail company to transport 102,000 Dutch Jews and Gypsies to a transit camp at Westerbork, from where they were sent to other camps in Poland and Germany. Many of them did not survive the war.

Westerbork Transit Camp

Now, to avoid a costly legal battle, NS have volunteered to cooperate with Holocaust survivors groups and establish a compensation fund, to ultimately be paid by Dutch taxpayers.

This follows a similar decision by the French state-owned rail company, SNCF to pay Holocaust survivors $60 million compensation for its part in the wartime deportation of 76,000 French Jews.

Belgium

Flemish demonstrate against New Migration Pact

Thousands of Flemish nationalists took to the streets of Brussels to protest against the signing of a United Nations Migration Pact by the Belgian government.

The pact is designed to allow economic migrants and refugees into Europe and the USA legally, and for all countries to distribute migrants equally.

Initially, all 193 UN members, except the United States agreed the pact, but since its launch several EU countries including, Austria, Hungary, Italy, Poland and Slovakia have withdrawn their support.

Flemish Nationalists Protest

The protest was held outside the European Union headquarters in Brussels and several of the building's windows were broken. Police responded with tear gas and water cannon.

The protest was organised by the New Flemish Alliance party (N-VA) and the hard-line Vlaams Belang party. Both parties had earlier withdrawn from the Belgian coalition that rules the country, over the decision to sign the migration pact without first consulting the Flemish groups.

The country is now run by a Walloon Liberal minority administration, with General elections in Belgium not due for another five months.

However, the government is not expected to last that long and the elections may have to be brought forward.

YULETIDE and the WINTER SOLSTICE

The traditional Festival of Yule and the Winter Solstice have largely vanished into the Christian festival of Christmas, itself now challenged by politically correct councils to vanish it into a non-religious "Winter Festival". But what is Yuletide and the Winter Solstice? Both of which were celebrated by our North European ancestors long before Christianity?

To our ancestors living in the forests and on the frozen plains of Northern Europe, the Winter Solstice was an important religious event. Also known as the festival of Yule it celebrated the end of the dark days of winter, and the coming of the new spring. For the Solstice marked the shortest day and longest night of the year. It is also the turning point of the year, as following the longest night, the sun begins to grow stronger in the sky and gradually the days become longer again. From a religious perspective it is a celebration of rebirth and hope for the future. Several ancient sites of "standing stones" are aligned to catch the birth of the new dawn.

The festival of Yule goes by different names throughout Nordic Europe, Jul in Scandinavia, and Jol in old Icelandic. The Prose Edda has references to the Yule festival as does the Ynglinga saga, which mentions a Yule feast lasting three nights. Although in some parts of Europe the festival went on for twelve nights. Feasting as part of the Yule festival seems common practice throughout, with records of toasts being drunk first to Odin for "victory" and then to the gods Njoror and Freyr "for good harvests and for peace".

Fire also played a vital part in the celebrations with the Yule log being burnt on a ceremonial fire and candles or specially prepared lanterns being lit.

Many Pagan dwellers of the great forests that covered much of Northern Europe worshipped "gods of nature" such as the Green Man. This figure was depicted as having two sides, one made of Holly, the Holly King, and the other of Oak, the Oak King. In winter, when nature is dormant and most trees have shed their leaves the Holly King, an evergreen, rules supreme. Following the Winter Solstice, as mother earth warms up, the Oak springs back to life and the Oak King rules again. Thus is the everlasting cycle of nature.

The "Green Man"

Even after Europe began to convert to Christianity the Festival of Yule was still celebrated. In AD 730, the "Father of English History" the Venerable Bede, recorded that the Pagan Yule festival was still being celebrated in parts of Britain, and in AD 840, King Haakon, the first Christian King of Norway, mentions Yule feasts continue to be held throughout his icebound Kingdom.
